Senior product designer for products people can't afford to get wrong: Navy and Air Force intelligence tools, Nuuly's warehouse apps, and URBN's retail brands. Hands-on, research to delivery. Seeking senior or staff IC roles.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Product Designer

U.S. Navy, Naval Information Warfare Center Pacific • Nov 2019 - Present

Designed intelligence tools for thousands of operators in Navy and Air Force units, on systems with no internet.

- Led design of FDT-E, which Navy analysts across major commands use to verify what an AI system flags
- Co-led design of Line of Sight, a Dagr feature Air Force units used to plan missions around enemy radar
- Turned static briefing slides into interactive data visualizations that operators used for mission planning
- Cut reporting time 25% by redesigning workflows around direct research with operators
- Made the case for design ops to program leaders and won budget for tools, staffing and labor hours

Manager, Product Design

URBN (Urban Outfitters, Anthropologie, Free People, Nuuly) • Nov 2017 - Oct 2019

- Designed all seven Nuuly warehouse apps as sole designer; the warehouse ran on them from launch day
- Reframed missed delivery dates as a trust problem; all three brands adopted the strategy
- Led navigation redesign across three brands; traffic to product category pages rose 20%
- Established shared design systems and processes across brand teams
- Managed eight designers on the platform behind Urban Outfitters, Anthropologie, and Free People

Senior UX Designer to Director, UX Design

Tonic Design Co. • Jun 2014 - Jul 2017

- Designed Abercrombie & Fitch's loyalty program, which lifted repeat app visits 30%
- Led product strategy for real estate and e-commerce clients

Senior UX Designer

SevOne • Jan 2014 - Jun 2014

- Built product demos used in SevOne's fundraising
- Designed the UX framework for a mobile-first network management tool for enterprise IT

Information Architect to Director, Experience Design

Empathy Lab (now EPAM) • Feb 2010 - Jan 2014

– Led UX for media and nonprofit clients, including DirecTV, Lionsgate, Televisa, and the American Red Cross

Information Architect

Comcast Interactive Media • Apr 2006 - Jan 2010

– Designed the information architecture for Comcast's video-on-demand service, available in millions of households
